2. Conditions of Sale

- 2.1. The Conditions are deemed to be incorporated into all Contracts and supersede all terms and conditions previously issued by XRFs.
- 2.2. The Conditions will prevail to the extent of any inconsistency between the Conditions and an Order.
- 2.3. XRFs may accept or reject an Order in its sole discretion.
- 2.4. Where the Customer places an Order which contains terms and conditions different from the Conditions, subsequent delivery of the Goods to the Customer shall be deemed to be a counter-offer to supply the Goods on the Conditions and such counter-offer shall be deemed to be accepted by the Customer on acceptance of the Goods.

3. Variation

- 3.1. No variation of these Conditions shall have any effect unless in writing and signed by or on behalf of XRFs.

4. Prices & Quotations

- 4.1. A quotation for Goods is open for acceptance by the Customer up to 4:00 pm EST on the day the quotation is provided, unless otherwise noted on the quotation, however, XRFs reserves the right to withdraw a quotation at any time before acceptance.
- 4.2. Unless specified, GST (Goods & Service Tax), if applicable, is additional to the price and is based on the rate ruling at the date of quotation with any variation to the Applicant's account.
- 4.3. In relation to precious metals, XRFs reserves the right to vary any prices specified in a quotation to reflect metal market prices prevailing at the time of acceptance of order by XRFs.
- 4.4. Unless otherwise stated in a quotation, freight and insurance will be charged at rates prevailing on the date of dispatch for delivery.

4.5. All prices quoted and invoiced by XRFS are strictly net 30 days, unless otherwise agreed to by XRFS in writing.

5. Taxes and Customs Duty

5.1. XRFS reserves the right to adjust prices by an amount equal to any applicable sales tax, consumption, retail or value added or like tax, duty or charge payable by XRFS which may be levied on the sales of the Goods. XRFS is not liable for any customs duties or other charges, fines or assessments whatsoever levied on the Goods.

6. Manufacturing and Reprocessing Losses (precious metals products only)

6.1. The reprocessing of precious metals is a complex series of events, which may include: cleaning, melting, assaying, refining, blending, re-melting, forming, rolling, pressing, milling, spinning, polishing etc. Each of these steps generates a (usually) small loss of metal. Some losses, such as cleaning, melting and assaying are individually identifiable quantifiable and chargeable. Others are less easy to allocate, and it is normal practice to cover such losses by applying "retention" to reprocessed metal. XRF Scientific and its' subsidiaries reserve the right to retain up to a maximum of 5% of reprocessed metal to cover unallocated production losses and processing costs.

7. Sub-Contracting

7.1. XRFS may, in its absolute discretion, sub-contract the manufacture, supply and/or delivery of the Goods.

8. Dispatch Dates

8.1. Although XRFS will use its best endeavours to meet dispatch forecasts, dispatch dates given are estimates only and XRFS is not liable in any circumstances for loss or damage, whether direct or indirect, from delays in dispatch however arising.

9. Delivery

9.1. Delivery to the Customer, and acceptance of the Goods for the purposes of clause 2.4 will be deemed to have been made when the Goods are delivered to either:

- (a) the premises of the Customer or the premises nominated by the Customer; or
- (b) A carrier commissioned by either the Customer or XRFS.

10. Separate Deliveries

10.1. XRFS reserves the right to deliver Goods in instalments and, if delivery is made by instalments, the Customer shall not be entitled to terminate or cancel the Order or to compensation for any loss or damage, whether direct or indirect, by reason only of the delivery by instalments.

11. Predelivery (precious metals products only)

11.1. In certain circumstances XRFS may deliver new product by arrangement with the client in anticipation of a similar weight of returned scrap product. Such scrap must be received by XRFS within 7 days of delivery of new product, or XRFS reserves the right to invoice for the full amount of the new metal at the governing spot prices, plus 20%, as well as fabrication and transportation charges.

11.2. For taxation reasons we are unable to advance metal within certain trading territories and situations.

12. Recovery of costs

12.1. If the preparation of an Order or the delivery of Goods is delayed or suspended by the Customer's instructions or failure to instruct, XRFS reserves the right to adjust the price payable for the Goods to cover any extra expenses incurred by XRFS directly or indirectly as a consequence of the Customer's instructions or failure to instruct as the case may be.

- 12.2. If the Customer is unable to take delivery of the Goods when they are ready for dispatch, XRFS reserves the right to recover any costs incurred by it for the storage of such Goods.

- 13.3. XRFS's liability under the Warranty is limited, at XRFS's option, to:
- (a) the repair or replacement of such Goods or the supply of equivalent Goods; or
 - (b) The payment of the cost of repairing or replacing such Goods or supplying equivalent Goods.
- 13.4. Goods not manufactured by XRFS are sold only with such warranty as the manufacturer thereof has given to XRFS and as XRFS may be able to enforce.
- 13.5. Where Goods are sold for use in combination with other equipment or materials the Warranty is limited to the Goods sold and not to any combination with other equipment or materials.
- 13.6. The Warranty is the sole warranty in relation to the Goods and, to the extent permitted by law, all warranties and conditions in relation to the Goods whether expressed or implied by statute, common law, trade custom or usage are expressly excluded.
- 13.7. If any law (including the Trade Practices Act 1974) implies any condition or warranty into the Conditions, and that law avoids or prohibits provisions excluding or modifying the operation of such condition or warranty, then to the extent permitted by law, XRFS's liability for any breach of such a condition or warranty is limited to, at XRFS's option:

- 14.3. If any sum remains unpaid after the due date for payment, XRFs may charge the Customer interest on the overdue amount at the rate per annum which is the aggregate of 2.0% and the prime lending rate published by HSBC Australia (or any rate that replaces that rate), from the due date for payment until the overdue amount including any accumulated interest is paid. Interest shall be calculated on daily balances.
- 14.4. The charging or payment of interest shall be without prejudice to any other rights or remedies XRFs may have to recover any amount due for Goods sold or agreed to be sold by XRFs.

17. Retention of Title

- 17.1. XRFs and the Customer agree that title to Goods delivered by XRFs to the Customer is only transferred to the Customer when the Customer has paid all sums owing to XRFs in relation to the relevant Goods whether under this or another contract.
- 17.2. Until the Customer makes payment in full for Goods and title to the Goods passes to the Customer in accordance with clause 17.1.:
 - (a) the relationship between the Customer and XRFs shall be fiduciary and the Customer shall hold the Goods and any products into which the Goods have been incorporated as bailee and, at its own expense, store them separately in a manner that clearly identifies such Goods as the property of XRFs;

- (d) XRFS shall be entitled to possession of the Goods and any products into which the Goods have been incorporated and may recover and sell the same and retain so much of the proceeds of sale as is equal to the amount owing by the Customer to XRFS;
- (e) in addition to any other rights which XRFS may have under the Conditions or at law, the Customer gives XRFS, its agents and employees leave and licence, without the necessity of giving notice, to enter the premises of the Customer (or the premises of any associated company or agent of the Customer where the Goods are located) at any time to inspect, search for or retake possession of such Goods without liability for trespass or any resulting damage; and
